Go, You! Fun Products With Inspiring Messages + Staples GIVEAWAY

Life can be tough. And unlike Olympic athletes (Go, USA!) the vast majority of us will never receive a gold medal (or even a gold star) for putting in our best efforts every single day—day after day after day.

Since everyone can use a fan club from time to time, these products will cheer you up and cheer you on, even on those really tough days.

I was in Staples the other day and noticed that locker decor has evolved from locker mirrors, to locker chandeliers and even wallpaper. Well, OK then. Since I'm a sucker for back to school gear, I oohed and aahed over the really cute notebooks, pencil cases and other gear which is such an update from the basic, boring composition books that were a must when I was in school. To help out with your own back to school shopping, Staples will be giving away some fun goodies including some inspiring notebooks, Cynthia Rowley pens and a $50 gift certificate. Head over to my Facebook page for full details.
